SENATORREPRESENTING
THE
PEOPLENOT CONTROLLED BY THE BIG INTERESTS
TO THE PEOPLE:

This space has been engaged by me from now until the night of election and in it I shall from day to day give my views in reference to the questions of interest that may appeal to the voter during the present campaign.

I have no political organization back of me, neither have I a fund collected from any interest whatsoever to assist my campaign.

I have no means of organizing monster mass meetings or luau at which to address the voters, so I take this method as a means of making my appeal direct to the people and hope to receive the support of those who feel with me that the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii should not be absolutely controlled by the BIG INTERESTS.

The STAR-BULLETIN is not responsible for what appears in this space. I alone am accountable, as everything here is over my signature and paid for at regular advertising rates.

I shall endeavor, however, not to be personal in my attacks, or create any disgraceful controversy.

I SHALL TELL THINGS AS I SEE THEM AND SPEAK OUT EXACTLY AS I FEEL.

HENRIQUES FACES JURY FOR MURDER
COLLEGES MAKE
ADDRESSES HERE

Charged with murder in the first degree, Henriquez today faces a jury in Circuit Judge Whitely's court. In addition, he has brought more than a dozen witnesses from South Kona, Hawaii, to Honolulu, and probably will continue for the next fortnight before it is finally submitted to the jury for a verdict.

The alleged murder, which occurred at South Kona on November 14, 1911, was the result of a fight, of a feud between the Henriquez family and some Japanese, whom the Henriquez had accused of stealing lumber. In an attempt to drive the Japanese away from a pile of lumber, young Henriquez is said to have used a shotgun, firing into the crowd of Japanese as he and his father, J. J. Henriquez, approached the lumber pile.

Immediately after this shot, which took fatal effect on Aoyama, some witnesses assert one of the crowd rushed toward the two white men shouting "Paul! Paul!" and that young Henriquez again fired, wounding the Japanese who sought to stop the trouble.

Half a dozen witnesses for the prosecution were present from Kona when the hearing began this morning, and wireless summons has been sent to the Big Island for nearly a dozen more. The first witness called today was Dr. H. L. Koss, who appeared on the scene of the shooting shortly after it occurred, and gave medical attention to Aoyama.

Deputy County Attorney William H. Heen of Hawaii is prosecuting the case, with Attorneys C. W. Ashford and J. B. Lightfoot appearing for the defense.

PRICES KEEP UP
IN SMALL BUSINESS

Although small in volume, the transactions of the stock exchange for today are not of a blue angel as to prices. Hawaiian Commercial scores an advance of half a point, while all other stocks dealt in hold their own. Sales were as follows, the last two being the only business on the board: McBryde, 50 shares at 5.50; Pioneer, 100 at 41; Waialua, 30 at 115; Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar, 10 at 42; Hilo Extension sixes, $4000 at 97; Honolulu Brewing and Malting, 25 at 23.25; Olau, 70 at 6.

Announcement is made on the day's sheet of the increase in the Brewery dividend to 1 1/4 per cent., reported in this paper two days ago.

Dividends are announced today by Waiuku Sugar Co. of $1.50, or $45,000; by Hutchinson Sugar Plantation Co., of 20c, or $20,000; by Paauhau Sugar Plantation Co., of 20c, or $20,000.

AHIA IS RUNNING FOR SUPERVISOR

William Ahia, who was a member of the first Board of Supervisors of the municipality, is running as an independent candidate for the same office this year. He failed to secure the nomination at the Republican convention, although assured in advance of a large amount of support, as he had also failed in the convention of two years ago. Since the late convention, however, Ahia has been busy drumming up support to run on his own account, and now his nomination paper is ready to be filed with nearly double the number of signatures of voters required. His appearance in the arena is liable to cause a loss of votes to some of the regular Republican candidates, as he has many friends and on the whole made a good record while on the board.

Yesterday afternoon four of the Chinese graduates who recently returned from mainland universities were guests at luncheon of President Myrick at the Mid-Pacific Institute and Mrs. F. W. Damon at Manoa valley. At table they supplied the humor and chatted with the faculty of the institution.

After lunch, it was decided to hold a convocation at the chapel, for very seldom do the Mills boys have an opportunity to listen to such a galaxy of oratorical lights. The sessions in Chinese were suspended for an hour and a half. Though unprepared for any formal addresses, the college men seemed to be thoroughly at home on the platform. They spoke so earnestly and powerfully that the students listened to them with deep interest. The speakers paid a high tribute to Mr. F. W. Damon, who, on account of illness due to overwork, is now recuperating in California.

The speakers of the afternoon, H. S. Chuck, Cornell; Kim Tong Ho, Wisconsin; H. Y. Ching, California; and Charles A. Wong, Harvard, were introduced by Principal Myrick.

After the speeches were concluded one of the older boys of the school remarked: "It is nothing like listening to some who know. These gentlemen certainly have hit the nail on the head and I intend to follow their example."

HAWAII'S RUBBER

Rubber and Allied Trades Exhibition was opened formally at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the New Grand Central Palace, Lexington avenue and Forty-sixth street. Three floors are used to display the exhibits, and experts are on hand in the various booths to explain the rubber industry from the gathering of the milk or sap from the trees to the production of the finished article.

In bringing out the picturesque features of the exhibition, the report of the New York Telegraph is the best that has come to hand. This was in the Telegraph of September 22, the day before the opening, and is as follows:

"The world's rubber exposition at the Grand Central Palace will be formally opened tomorrow by Mayor Gaynor and will continue for ten days. At this exposition every rubber-producing country will be represented by delegates.

"The exposition will occupy three floors of the Grand Central Palace. On one floor the different countries will show their part in the rubber world. Each country will have a different exhibit and a staff to explain it to visitors.

"The largest exhibit will be from Brazil, which is the largest rubber-producing country in the world, and will be in charge of a large staff of experts. Other countries to have exhibits are Mexico, Ceylon, British Malaya, Java, British Guiana, Trinidad, Belgium and Belgium Congo, Madagascar, Indo-China, Equatorial Africa, Occidental Africa, the Hawaiian Islands, Portugal, Peru and other small countries.

"The entire floor will represent a tropical forest with huts and costumes. How rubber is grown in the Straits Settlements under British rule will be shown at the exhibition, which is in charge of Imperial Commissioner Leonard Wray. Malay rubber gatherers in their picturesque costume will live during the exposition in native huts brought from their settlements.

"Ceylon's exhibit will be set in the center of a plantation crowded with spice trees. F. Crosbie Roles, commissioner for Ceylon, has brought a score or more of picturesquely garbed Singhalese rubber workers to New York for the show, and with them a few Tamils from Southern India, who work on the Ceylonese rubber farms as indentured laborers. On another floor will be a collection of exhibits from the Imperial Institute of London. Lectures on rubber will be delivered daily, and motion pictures will show scenes in rubber-producing countries and in large factories.

"Mr. Anderson sent clippings from different papers containing reports of the exposition to Guy H. Buttolph, of Williamson & Buttolph, to whom the Star-Bulletin is indebted for their use. In a note to Mr. Buttolph accompanying the clippings, Mr. Anderson says: 'Busy as the deuce from 9 a. m. till 10:30 p. m.'"

"Rubber in all shades, forms and conditions, including sheets from the mill, were sent to the exhibition from Hawaii." said Mr. Buttolph this afternoon. "Mr. Anderson also took on some of the new gum found in Robert Hind's woods on Hawaii. He was furnished besides with a large supply of literature by the Hawaii Promotion Committee, and the Hawaiian booth was therefore in part a promotion agency.

"The expenses of Mr. Anderson and the Hawaiian exhibit were contributed by the Promotion Committee, the Rubber Growers' Association, the individual rubber planting companies and Alexander & Baldwin.

"Rubber from the Hawaiian Islands commands within a few cents of the highest price of rubber from any other part of the world.

"Mr. Anderson will be back here on November 8 in the steamer Sonoma."

Petition for naturalization as a citizen of the United States was filed today by William Charles Penny, a native of London, Eng., who came to this country in 1900 and served several years as a soldier in the American army.

THE CLARION

HITS STREETCAR;
FILIPINO HURT

Lou M. Whitehouse, city and county engineer, driving municipal automobile No. 689, hit a Hotel and Kaimuki electric car No. 38 last evening, with the result that in addition to doing considerable damage to the coach, a Filipino passenger sitting on the front platform was injured.

City and County Engineer Whitehouse is alleged by the police as having been proceeding toward town at a fast rate.

The electric car was going eastward and was well crowded with passengers. The collision took place near the new girls' industrial school building at a time, so the officers state, when the car was standing still.

Through the collision the running board on the street car was partially demolished, while several stanchions or hand rails were torn from their moorings.

The Filipino, while complaining of his injuries, declined to go to the hospital for treatment.

Engineer Whitehouse said today he was trying to evade the car but could not get his machine off the track in time. He said there was no other road he could take.

POLITICAL NOTES

There is an important meeting of all Republican candidates at headquarters at 3 p. m. today.

At 5 p. m. a meeting of all delegates from the Fourth District.

At 7:30 a. m. at Captain Parker's residence, Liliha street, given by the Eleventh Precinct Club. This will be a love feast and discussion of plans for the coming campaign by all delegates from the Fifth District.

G. K. Keawehehu, Democratic Interpreter—We have a telephone politician in the person of T. J. Ryan, candidate for county auditor. Ordinarily his ears are blocked; but, when he attaches the telephone apparatus on his ear, he can hear everything said about him. At a meeting last night at Aala Park, I said different things from what he told the voters. I introduced him to the people as the "telephone man-auditor."

J. M. Poeppoe—We have some hot stuff to fire at the Republican candidates this time. They will hear from us again about the banana and mosquito campaign. We are opposed to compensating the prisoners for their work.

H. M. Kaniho's Advice—The Republicans, usually show you the best part of the meat; but when they are elected they do and run things to suit themselves: I advise you to vote for the Democrats.

JAPANESE FIGHT
CHARGE OF GAMBLING

Seventeen Japanese put up a hard fight against paying a fine upon a charge of gambling, but at the conclusion of a hearing of testimony at District Court this morning, Judge Larnach decided the case in favor of the prosecution.

The Japanese were alleged by the police to have indulged in a quiet game of seven-eleven in a room on King street not far from the railway station. Detectives Kellett, Apana and others entered the premises, and upon the stand this morning these officers declared that they caught the Japanese red-handed in the game.

The bunch were given fines ranging from six to ten dollars. In several instances the defendants were rated as old offenders. The trial produced one interesting feature in that Chief of Detectives McDuffie gave a learned dissertation on the difference existing between jo-ban and seven-eleven, which explanation was made for the courts enlightenment.

UNLUCKY DEMOCRAT
GETS BACK $25 FEE

S. K. Aoleino of Maui, who is no longer Democratic Senatorial aspirant from that island because his nomination papers did not reach Secretary Mott-Smith in time, will get his $25 deposit fee back, or the individual who paid it for him will recover it. This was determined by the Territorial Secretary this morning after a talk with the attorney general, who finally decided that as the nomination was not received the deposit fee could not be recognized and accepted.
